Reasons for Allowance

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Irah H. Donner (Reg. No. 35,120) on November 21, 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 11, line 8: deleted "capable of being".

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The closest prior art of record is US Patent NO. 6167136 to Chou.

Chou discloses a method for preventing copying of digital video disks. He teaches the steps of combining analog information signal with noise signal, encrypting the combined data with a key derived from the noise signal, reading, decompressing and decrypting the data. The data is then converted to an analog signal and combined with a noise correction signal from the key to eliminate the noise signal added to the analog information signal. Chou taken either individual or in combination with other prior art of record fails to teach or suggest comparing the predetermined errors to the at least one authentication key or component thereof, authenticating the at least one of the media and the data responsive to the comparing step and removing the predetermined errors from the data resulting in substantially the data as recited in independent claims 1 and 10 and the at least one predetermined error comprising at least one authentication key or component thereof, used in authenticating whether the computer data message is authorized, and wherein the predetermined errors are sufficiently minimal such that the at least one predetermined error is capable of being removed therefrom without substantially altering an audible component of the computer data message as recited in independent claim 11.

Art Unit: 3621

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
